On Monday 13th November the whole school watched a performance called 'The Power of One'. This ties in with Anti Bullying Week. The children really enjoyed the interactive performance about what can be done about bullying and how every child has the power of one – the power to report and deal with bullying when they see it.

My Book Blog Launch 22nd November

Our school is now using MyBookBlog (MyBB), a fantastic new website that motivates children to read books. Children are supported to choose a great book using MyBB's blurbs, book trailers and the ratings and reviews by 30 other children. The scheme is to be piloted in November and rolled out to the rest of school after Christmas.

Kind Regards
