

Our Curriculum;

A framework for setting out the aims of a programme of education, including the knowledge and understanding to be gained at each stage (intent) for translating that framework over time into a structure and narrative, within an institutional context (implementation) and for evaluating what knowledge and understanding pupils have gained against expectations (impact)

Developments in Education – Ofsted March 2018

Our school provides a broad and balanced curriculum which challenges learners, encourages curiosity and inspires lifelong learning. We celebrate every aspect of our children and allow our curriculum to evolve to meet the needs and passions of our current and anticipated school community. We have thought carefully about our curriculum design to ensure that its structure and implementation builds pupils' knowledge over time.

Our school curriculum is creative, inclusive, reflective and collaborative allowing children to develop a range of skills, attributes and qualities. We promote independent learners who are inspired and engaged in their learning through exploration, challenge and discovery. Our children learn to think deeply and reflect imaginatively. The opportunities our curriculum provides ensure that all children have the chance to develop their skills and passions equally. Children have maximum opportunity to develop their own voice and an understanding of individual liberty whilst remaining respectful towards others.

Whilst members of our school community, all children will undertake a series of life experiences designed to promote greater awareness of local, wider and global issues faced in modern Britain and to develop informed and democratic opinions and improve their confidence as a valued member of the community.
